

Devos letters at Olivet

By JIM EMERY
Denny Devos, a 1976 graduate of Kent City High School and a freshman at Olivet college, received his varsity letter this past fall for his participation on the football team. Adding to this award, he was also named to the M.I.A.A. Division III

Honorable Mention Team at defensive end. During his last year at Kent City Devos made the N.C.A.A. First Team All-Conference at the same position.

When asked what his best experience was during his first year in college ball Denny replied, "There's not too many good experiences when your team ends the season winless, but probably my best was being able to start four games." The fact that they ended the season 0-9 could be attributed to having six freshmen on their starting defensive squad.

Because of the unimpressive conference record Olivet hired a new coach for next season. He has had experience coaching football at all levels, from high schools to professionals. He quit coaching at a large Indiana high school for the Olivet job and was previously an assistant coach for a Canadian team and the Chicago Fire, of the now defunct World Football League. If the players around this area think they have it bad during the summer with two-a-day practices, just think of Devos sweating out there with three-a-days starting in mid-August.

When Denny was asked what made him keep playing football he said, "Mr. Burde really influenced me the most. He took me off the line and put me in my defensive end position. He started the motivation in quite a few guys just because of the kind of man he was." This switching of positions led Devos onto the N.C.A.A. All-Conference team five times, twice getting named to both the offensive and defensive squads.

A question that everyone seems to be asking Denny is: What is the main difference between high school and college ball? "In high school football you may get one good hit in on defense during a game, while in college everybody hits hard all the time."

Not only excelling in high school football, Devos also lettered two years in basketball and two years in track. In the latter, Denny set the Kent City discus record at 128'8" and is planning on going out for the Olivet track team this spring.

Other athletes from the N.C.A.A. attending Olivet are Paul Kies from Hesperia, who also played football, and Jeff Tobie from White Cloud, who is currently playing basketball.

Denny is uncertain whether he will stay all four years with the college or maybe transfer to a larger school. When first entering college he was planning on becoming a teacher but is presently unsure of his future plans.

Cancer Answerline

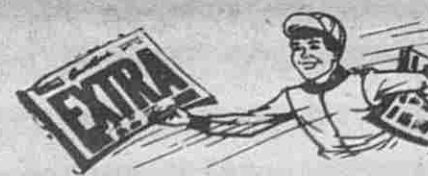

A postal worker asks: "What is 'Make Today Count'?"

ANSWERline: "Make Today Count, Inc." is a national organization for advanced cancer patients and their families which was formed in 1974 by Orville E. Kelly, a journalist, a year after he discovered that he had cancer. The group, which has a number of local chapters throughout the country (some of which work with American Cancer Society units in the community) offers emotional bolstering and the chance to share problems among people confronted by cancer. Kelly himself travels widely and speaks to the public frequently about his own emotional reaction to cancer and the importance of living to the fullest, regardless of how long one has to live. He is a spokesman for more honesty when dealing with patients. He believes that many patients don't realize that medicine can often extend their lives even if they cannot be cured. He also has called public attention to the sellers of unproven remedies who prey on frightened cancer patients and their families.

equivalent of 36 cigarettes during an eight-hour shift if they work in a stuffy area but that number drops to the equivalent of 12 cigarettes if the area has a good air flow.

A manufacturer writes: "A business associate is to begin chemotherapy for cancer when he gets out of the hospital. I would like to know how physicians monitor these powerful drugs."

ANSWERline: Chemotherapy is a form of treatment which is closely monitored because the drugs used are very potent and it is important to tailor the dosage to individual response and needs. This is accomplished by doing blood counts, x-ray tests, special isotope scans, analyses of general body function and special blood chemistry tests of liver or kidney function.

Elks National Scholarships

For the academic year 1977-1978 the Elks National Foundation Trustees are offering 1,051 college scholarships ranging from $600 to $3,000 and totaling $776,900.

The 1977 Schedule of Awards includes 500 "Most Valuable Student" scholarships awarded in nationwide competition, and 551 scholarships each for $600 allocated on a state quota basis. Six special four-year scholarships are to be awarded to the three highest rated boys and girls in the 1977 competition.

Scholarship, leadership and financial need are the criteria by which applicants are judged. Experience shows that students who qualify for final consideration usually have a scholarship rating of 90 per cent or better and stand in the upper 5 per cent of their class.

All scholarships are in the form of certificates of award conditioned upon the enrollment of the winners in an undergraduate course in an accredited college or university.

Applications may be picked up in the counseling office of Kent City High School. These must be filed not later than February 10, 1977.

A housewife writes: "Several years ago my cancer was treated by a physician called a therapeutic radiologist and now I know someone who is being treated by a radiation oncologist. Are they the same?"

ANSWERline: Yes. The terms therapeutic radiologist, radiotherapist, radiation oncologist and radiation therapist all have the same meaning: a physician who has received specific training in therapeutic radiology; one who is certified by a recognized medical specialty board, and usually limits his or her practice to radiation therapy. The radiation oncologist has a particular interest in cancer, although the others also treat the disease.

A man in his 40's explains: "I am a bartender and my work puts me right in the middle of a lot of cigarette smoke. Is there anything that I can do to protect myself?"

ANSWERline: First, it is important for you to a non-smoker because if you smoke you will compound the harmful effect of inhaling your customer's tobacco smoke. Second, try to make sure that your work area is well ventilated. A study done at the University of Cincinnati showed that bartenders inhale the
