Sparta Foundry Sales Conference

On Wednesday, January 12 and Thursday, January 13, 1977, the sales department of the Sparta Foundry Division hosted the entire sales force of the Muskegon Piston Ring Company at a sales conference held at the foundry. The two day conference was kicked off by Chuck Wilson, Sparta Foundry Vice President and General Manager, with an introductory film and plant tour. The local Sales Manager, E.M. Weston and Sales Engineer, Ted Anderson planned the meeting.

The local management Gary Batka, Employee Relations Manager; Howard Lettinga, Foundry Manager; Gerry Tibbe, Machining Manager; Kenneth McCready, Technical Director; Jim Johnson, Controller; Harold Bockman, Purchasing Agent; Gayle Eaton, Quality Assurance Manager; Morrie Ribble, Chief Engineer; Hank Bolt, Systems and Production Manager; Harold Vogel, Product Engineer and Elzie Weston, Sparta Sales Manager all took part in providing the visiting sales force with their respective job functions and the basic rudiments of making gray iron castings.

The reason for the sales conference according to

Arch Hood, Muskegon Piston Ring's Vice President in charge of sales, was to acquaint all of the salesmen with the multitude of products produced by the foundry. The group received an array of technical data from the local management.

Salesmen attending the conference were; Arch Hood, Vice President in charge of sales; Jim Kley and Mark Alef, Detroit office Sales Engineers; Stan Bourdon, Executive Sales Manager, Detroit; Clarence Ulrey, Wausau Division Sales Manager, Joe Smearing, Wausau Sales Engineer; Norm Pugh, Muskegon Sales Engineer; Elzie Weston, Sparta Foundry Sales Manager; Ted Anderson, Sparta Foundry Sales Engineer and Bill Johnson, Sparta Foundry Sales Representative.
