

'Morning Belles' Tops Club

Hope by now everyone has thawed out just a bit.

As you know, I froze up last week and didn't get in with the weekly report. We can't let those people who tried so hard go unrecognized either.

January 12th our new member, Connie S. was our best loser with a 3 1/4 lb. loss. That was just great! Our dime cup was held over again for the 5th time and both of the mystery boxes changed hands again. Bonnie and Ruby have hold of them now. We started our Heart contest today and will end the 16th of February. Everyone should enjoy it as it sounds like fun. We played our Tops game and the way we play everyone gets at least one prize. Now for the 19th meeting: Elaine J. came in with a 4 lb. loss to become best loser. See what you can do when you put your mind to it? Lou K. (the envy of us all), won the dime cup which held $11.00 this week, so now we can start building it up again. Bonnie and Ruby faithfully kept their mystery boxes.

Sparta Hunting & Fishing Club

By MIKE MATTHEWS

Talking to the DNR this week I found that the harsh winter we've been having has been taking its toll on fish as well as the deer herd in our state.

Reports of winter kill have been coming in locally already, with grassy, shallow bayous such as in the Grand River basin, and some smaller lakes being the hardest hit. Winter kill occurs when zero oxygen is present in the water. This is caused by heavy snow cover and thick ice stopping photosynthesis by plan life and thus depleting the oxygen content. But, the local office assures me, there still are many good fishing lakes in the area and good catches are being reported.

The deer herd has been most affected in the upper peninsula where, in areas such as the Beaver Basin, the herd had outgrown it's food supply before old man winter hit. Zone 2 has been a little better off, with the herd still ranging and not yarding up. The greatest problem for the deer is not so much the cold weather, as the availability of decent quality food which is necessary for high survival rates.

Those of you who missed the pancake breakfast last Sunday morning missed a real treat, one that most of us won't soon forget. Approximately eighty people came out to sample the work of our club "chefs". If you got sidetracked for some reason, try to make the next one. It will be held on Sunday, February 6. You won't be sorry if you come out.

Congratulations to Ron Thome on his perfect trap round last week. Ron ended up shooting 25,20 for the week in the winter league.
